

Underneath the City Hall Dome

Overnight News Gathered By A. P.

The Tale Is Told of the Young Man Who Was About to Embark on the Montserrat Sea—Back to the Garden Movement This Summer.

Two middle-aged women were called at the city hall today on business, and after that had been transacted they were walking through the building which they had not seen since it was rebuilt. As they passed the door of the city clerk's office one of the women remarked "That is where you get your marriage license."

"Is that so," replied the other, as she cast an interested glance in the direction of the office. "Do you know," she continued, "my daughter is planning to get married, but don't mention it as it is secret yet."

"You don't say," replied the other, "and what does the young man work at?"

"Oh," replied the other, "he is not working—but I should not say that," she added, "for he has worked half a day."

A man who had overheard the conversation turned to another man and said with a grin, "Love is certainly wonderful, but I bet you a dime to a doughnut that inside of two weeks after the marriage that woman will be planning to support two instead of just her daughter as at present."

If the present depression does not soon ease the agitation of back to the garden movement will receive added impetus. A visitor at the city hall today suggested as a slogan the motto made famous by a local retail ice company, "Summer's Fruit for Winter's Use."

And talking of ice there is another ice company, or was, in Kingston who used to advertise "good cold ice."

Speaking of back to the garden movement reminds one of the World War days when the agitation for a home garden was in full bloom. It was stylish in those days to have a garden, but the trouble was that many who attempted a vegetable garden had never had experience, aside from perusing the annual seed catalogues that they got through the mail.

One such man laid in enough seed to plant in a 10-acre lot, and scattered it about in a plot of ground about 40x100 feet. When those seeds began to sprout it was a sight that never the eye of a vegetable gardener had before beheld.

Potatoes and beans, peas and watermelon vines, onions and carrots, radishes and what have you all sprung up together in one wild heteroclite. And sprinkled liberally, in fact more than liberally, were practically every variety of weeds, and the weeds outpaced the others in growth.

In the meantime the would-be gardener had gone away after planting the seed with so prodigal a hand, and several months later happened to think it was about time to garner a crop. He had labored under the impression that all that was necessary to secure a crop was to dig up the ground, plant the seed and then forget about it.

He has grown considerably wiser since then. Undoubtedly there will be another new crop of gardeners about in his class this summer.

FOR years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it has solved the problem! It gives you the protection you want...because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it! "Fifty million smokers can't be wrong!" So whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly—safeguard your delicate membranes!

boys and girls that it was impossible to get through.

The police estimate that fully 500 students were jammed into the two long corridors that run the entire length of the building.

After considerable work the city hall was cleared. The students made no attempt to enter any of the offices but some of them, it is said, made threats to go to the third floor and wreck the Common Council chambers.

They were gotten out of the building, however, before they had committed any damage.

Now Martin Was Hurt.

Young Martin is the son of City Assessor William L. Martin. He was one of the seniors holding the banner at the time the picture was being taken and in the rush was unable to arise.

Some of those taking part in the rush were members of the athletic squad of the high school and were wearing their spiked shoes.

Martin it is thought was struck over the eye with one of the spiked shoes. He also was struck along the side of the nose and the impress of a signet ring was left in the flesh.

He was hurried to the Kingston Hospital as the wound bled profusely, and there it was necessary to have five stitches taken to close the wound.

Police Used Sticks.

In order to break up the riot, the three policemen were forced to use their sticks but were careful to hit the students over the arms and about the body, and made no attempt to strike the boys over the head.

Started in Fun; Ended in Riot.

There is no question but that the rush started in fun but it soon degenerated into a battle royal with every one taking part.

Many of the students took the opportunity to settle old scores with their fists whether the one struck was a member of his class or not.

Trowbridge Discharged.

This morning in police court Judge Culliton discharged young Trowbridge, who was present in court with his father.

Worst Riot in Years.

This is the worst riot in the history of the Kingston High School and it cannot be said that it reflects credit on the student body.

China, Japan Sign Truce Officially Ending Hostilities

Shanghai, May 3 (AP)—Representatives of China and Japan signed a truce agreement today officially ending hostilities which began here last January.

The text of the armistice agreement was not immediately available, but it was understood to specify that Japanese troops be withdrawn to the International Settlement and the roads nearby, adjacent to Hongkew.

It was said also that some Japanese troops would be left in specified areas between Hongkew and Woon-sung because of the impossibility of billeting the entire Japanese armed force within the Settlement.

The withdrawal, it was understood, would begin within a week and be completed within the following month.

Mamoru Shigemitsu and Kenkichi Uryu, Japanese delegates to peace parleys at which the agreement was reached, were still confined to the hospital today as a result of injuries they suffered in a bomb attack last week.

Quo Tai Chai, the Chinese negotiator, also was attacked Tuesday by a group of students who charged him with being about to sign an agreement detrimental to China.

The signing of the treaty had none of the pomp usual on such occasions. The document was taken successively to the foreign settlement, the French concession and to Chinese territory.

Sir Miles Lampson, British minister, who sponsored the negotiations which led up to the agreement, signed it first. The signatures of the representatives of the other friendly powers also were affixed at the British consulate, except that of the French minister, who was ill. He signed it at his home in the French concession.

Quo Tai Chai, chief Chinese delegate, signed at his home and finally the treaty was taken to the hospital where the Japanese minister, Mamoru Shigemitsu, propped up in bed as a result of injuries he sustained from a bomb last Friday, signed for Japan.

press representatives who will be at the camp.

Captain Daniel E. Fox and Major Hart inspected the camp on Wednesday and Capt. Fox will supply the necessary Troopers for traffic at and adjacent to the camp.

Definite arrangements have been made and the necessary signs will be erected to direct traffic to the training quarters. Signs will be erected directing traffic from the south up Wurts street to Broadway and to Albany avenue. From there the official route will be through Pearl street to Fair street and out to the Boulevard, DeWitt's Mills and to the camp. This route is all over good hard surfaced roads and gives entrance to Greenkill Park over a wide road which terminates directly at the large parking grounds. This route will eliminate the narrow crooked roads in the Park and will bring visitors directly to the parking grounds where men will be in charge to supervise parking and from where there is but a short walk to the quarters. South-bound traffic will come in on Albany avenue and at the Academy Park will be routed over the same streets to the camp.

Ample parking facilities are available at the camp and parking will be under supervision of men who will be placed in charge. There will be a nominal fee charged to care for the cost of adequate protection and to cover the cost of preparing the grounds.

By avoiding the narrow roads in the park there will be no congestion on the grounds on training days when large crowds are expected and this will also leave the narrow road along the creek open to official use and to bring in supplies to the camp. Just below DeWitt's mills is a large open space and the ball-field which will provide ample space for cars and also permits easy access and exit to the park.

Billy McCarney on Tuesday completed arrangements for the broadcasts over nation wide hook-ups as well as the matter of an international broadcast direct from the camp.

Arrangements are now being completed to have news reel men present for the parade and official welcome of Schmeling to Kingston on his arrival next Wednesday evening.

By having the parking of cars under the direction of those in charge of the camp all racketeering, which so frequently accompanies this form of business, will be avoided and visitors will find ample parking space on the grounds close to the training quarters at a very nominal cost.

In Police Court.

William Walker and James Lansing, negroes, who had been arrested for train riding by Sergeant Goodsell of the New York Central police force, were sentenced to five days each in the county jail in police court today.

William Elliott of R. F. D. No. 4, arrested for driving a truck without a taillight, had his case held open to give him a chance to have a taillight placed on his truck.

John Nance Garner

Political Headliners

John Nance Garner, like Lincoln, was born in a log cabin, but the cabin no longer exists. His birthplace was in Red River county, Texas, and the date was November 22, 1869. His parents, John and Sarah Jane Garner, were of pioneer stock. He liked baseball and played shortstop for the Coon Soup Hollow team, bitter rivals of the Possum Trot nine on diamonds of his section.

Garner attended school at Bogota and Bloomington. At 19, moved to Detroit, Tex. . . . Ran for county attorney, but was beaten. . . . Moved to Uvalde, and in 1895 married Etta Rhoads. . . . Practiced law, ran a paper, served as county judge, and in state legislature. . . . At 32 went to Washington to serve in Congress. . . . Has represented his district since.

The autocratic party leaders in Washington thought he was just another cow thief from Texas, Garner said. . . . In Congress he began his famous friendship with the late Nicholas Longworth. . . . Won place on ways and means committee. . . . Became finance and taxation expert. . . . During World War he often went to White House after Congress sessions to confer with President Wilson.

The Harding landslide of 1920 left Garner ranking minority member of the House. . . . He led fights against Republican tariff measures and Mellon tax plans. . . . A few months ago he was elected to speakership of House. . . . Has worked diligently to keep House calm during recent exciting months when budget balancing and financial legislation have broken party lines. . . . Opponents fear him in debate.

Cactus Jack, as Garner is familiarly called, still wears a wide hat. . . . When in Uvalde he works in his garden and pecan orchard. . . . He eats pecans in his own office—pecans from his own orchard. . . . He's known as plain-spoken. . . . When campaigning with friends, Garner always has done the cooking. . . . He never campaigned for re-election. . . . Apparently he didn't have to.

Triangle Club
Met on Tuesday

The Kingston Triangle Club had a jolly time at their regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening at the "Y" singing all the latest songs under the leadership of General Secretary Clarence S. Schoonmaker with Dan Bittner at the piano, enjoying the fine meal provided by Mrs. Builey and served by Miss Phyllis Eastman and Miss Verna Van Deusen and watching a very clever sleight of hand performance by Merton C. McLoughlin, popular salesman for the burroughs Adding Machine Co.

The secretary, Warren F. Smith, always provides plenty of amusement with his unique review of the events of the last meeting while the genial treasurer, Clarence Wolfenstein, with his ever ready smile, painlessly extracts the dues and cost of the meal from the members.

Dr. Julian I. Gifford, chairman of the program committee, with the cooperation of Neland H. Fuller, boys' work secretary, in observance of National Boys' Week had prepared a special program in honor of the occasion. Two members of the Cosmopolitan Club, Harry Gumaer and Allen Lewis, delivered addresses showing how the youth of today were taking an active interest in the affairs of the world. Both addresses were splendidly delivered and closely listened to and by the hearty applause showed how thoroughly the members had enjoyed them.

Next week as a special added attraction, a rousing five minute vaudeville stunt has been promised by Earl Leemon, H. LeRoy Gill and George Hayes. The program committee has also arranged to have Albert Shultis speak on the "Unemployment Relief Work" being done in this city.

President Fred Van Deusen appointed the following standing committees for the year:

Program: Dr. Julian I. Gifford, Clarence S. Schoonmaker, G. Warren Kins, Raymond L. Fuller, H. Lamont Winter.

Social: William E. Meller, Jr., Stanley M. Winne, Earl S. Leemon, John A. Brown, Harry M. Riegan, John J. Schwenk.

Finance: Ernest LeFevre, Clarence

F. Wolfenstein, H. LeRoy Gill, Merton C. McLoughlin, Herman C. Schwenk, Murray F. Brown.

Acquaintance, house and membership: George A. Hayes, Robert K. Lewis, Edwin T. Strong, Myron Oppenheimer, Harry M. Riegan, Herman Roosa, Fred Storm, Wallace Sheak.

Visiting: H. LeRoy Gill, Robert P. Severy, Earl Van Eiten, David Meller, Harold Davis.

Athletic: Erwin E. Craw, Earl G. McLane, Leslie H. Watrous, Samuel Astalos, Jr., Harold Broskie, David Meller, Warren F. Smith.

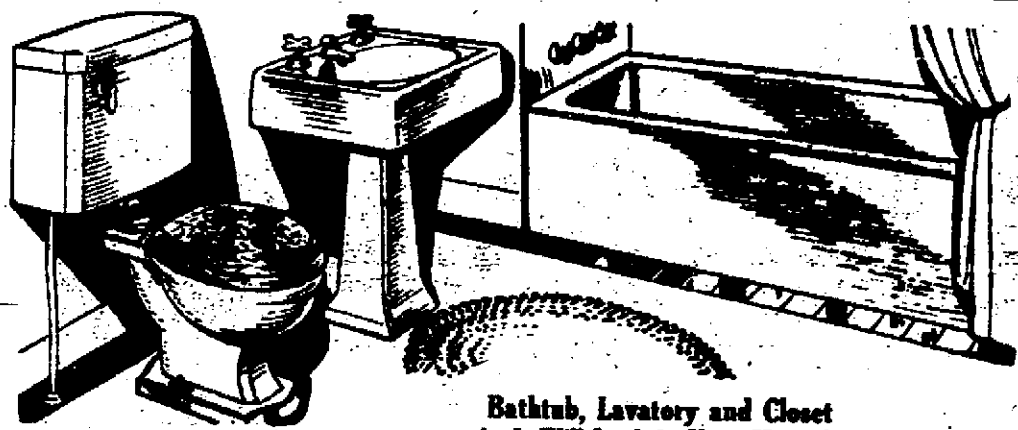

Publicity: Harold Davis, Neland H. Fuller, Warren F. Smith.

Movie Queen Flo—Why do you look so down-hearted, dear?

Movie Queen Jo—My lawyer just advised me that owing to the general depression I had better use my old husband another season.

"My grandpa notes the world's worn coat."

And says we're going to the dogs! His grandpa in a house of dogs! Swore things were going to the dogs! His dad among the Flemish dogs! Vowed things were going to the dogs! The caveman in his queer skin togs! Said things were going to the dogs! But this is what I wish to state—The dogs have had an awful wait!

A scientist says that mankind is of vegetable origin. Obviously, men descend from monkeys, monkeys from trees. In our opinion the biggest chunk is the fellow who shakes the plum tree while others gather the fruit. ... Nowadays England expects every man to do his duty, and pay it too. ... One wife out of every three is the ideal helpmate, we are informed. But how many of us can afford three wives? ... Our idea of an ideal marriage is one where the husband is treasurer and the wife is a treasure. ... A man's ideal wife is one in whose society he can spend a whole evening and not notice it. ... It may not be polite to stand around with your hands in your pockets, but they had better be there than in somebody else's pockets. ... A man who falls in love with himself never has any rivals. ... People with lots of pepper in their make-up are the salt of the earth. ... The strength of a building is in its frame; the strength of a salesman is in his frame of mind.

Boss—Well, what did Two-Gun-Smith say when you told him I wouldn't pay tribute to a racketeer?

Clerk—He said if he didn't have the money within an hour he'd blow up the store.

Boss—Here, hurry over with this money and tell him I can't afford to have the place blown up until I pay off the mortgage.

It takes the present day Jones to get down to cases—"vapid," "cigarette" and "divorce."

Johnny giggled when the teacher read the story of a man who swam a river three times before breakfast.

The Teacher—You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you, Johnny?

Johnny—No, sir, but I wonder why he didn't make it four times and get back to the side where his clothes were.

Vacation is a short period during which the college student wears no collars or pants except his own.

Lady Speaker—Now, is there any man in the audience who would let his wife be slandered and say nothing? If so, stand up.

A meek little man rose to his feet.

Lady Speaker, (glaring at him)—Do you mean to say you would let your wife be slandered and say nothing?

Meek Little Man (apologizing)—Oh, I'm sorry. I thought you said slaughtered.

You're not flattering the security salesman these days when you tell him his word is as good as his bond.

Sensible Speaker

A good story is told of Edmund Burke, the celebrated English orator and friend of America. A colleague of Burke's, rather a poor speaker, was called upon to speak immediately after Burke had made one of his best speeches. Rising to his feet, he said, "I say ditto to Mr. Burke—I say ditto to Mr. Burke," and sat down.

From the Bible

Hale Demands Navy Be Constructed To Full Treaty Limits

Chairman Hale Says "Treaties Have Failed" and U. S. Navy Must Be Built to Limit For Country's Protection.

Washington, May 3.—A navy strong enough to keep us out of war" was demanded in the senate Wednesday by Chairman Hale of the naval committee.

Opening the battle for his bill to authorize building the American fleet up to treaty limits, Hale scoffed at arguments that reduced armaments lessen the danger of war, and said passage of the bill would "strengthen the hands" of the American delegates to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Denying that existing treaties protect the United States from war, or radiate the need for armaments, Hale called attention to what he called the "melancholy spectacle" in the Far East.

"The treaties in which we have pledged such implicit confidence," he said, "have utterly failed of immediate effect, and with their prestige damaged may not be relied upon with any degree of safety as guarantees against future war. Under existing conditions it is folly not to recognize that little as our people want to go to war, a war may very well at any time be forced upon us."

Hale directed a warning at Japan that this country's agreement not to strengthen naval fortifications in the Pacific was based upon treaties "guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China and the 'open door' policy."

This country, said Hale, has taken the lead in disarmament since the Washington conference in 1922, but the net result has been that "we ourselves are now far weaker relatively as compared with the other powers than we were."

"That we should not keep up our navy at least to the treaty ratios, in these difficult and hazardous times is inconceivable," he continued. "We must be strong enough to keep out of war, and that is precisely what we shall not be if we keep up our present policy of allowing our navy to deteriorate."

"The passage of this bill will further serve notice to the other powers that the United States intends to keep up a proportionate degree of preparedness with the rest of the world, and that if other nations insist on keeping up to the full allowances granted them by treaties, the United States will do the same."

"DON'T LET 'EM KID YOU"

ONE of the two main reasons why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind has always been safety.

Other tire-makers know this. They know it so well that in their natural eagerness for sales they are tempted to claim safety too.

But there's a long jump between claiming safety on paper and building it into rubber.

Ridges, grooves, knobs on the side of a tire may be ornamental, but they're about as useful as the buttons on a coat sleeve.

IF YOU want grip instead of slip in the tire you buy, there's just one place to look for it.

Look at the center of the tread, where it contacts the road.

That is where other tires put continuous sled-runner ribs of rubber. That is where Goodyear puts the big, thick, deep-cut, sure-gripping blocks of the All-Weather Tread.

MARK this difference well—for it can mean to you the choice between coasting helplessly into an accident—or stopping safely when you want brakes and tires to grip tight and hold fast.

This year, Goodyear has made the world's best known safety tread even better, by combining safety and silence in the new Noiseless Non-Skid All-Weather Tread.

Don't let anybody kid you. If you want safety in the tires you buy, get safety you can see.

Buy Goodyear Tires with the All-Weather Tread—they have traction in the tread-center, where it belongs!

What tire is best?

A nation-wide vote covering every state, shows a preference for Goodyears 2 1/2 times that of the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes

At The Theatres

Kingston: "Disorderly Conduct."
Sally Eilers, plus Spencer Tracy and Dickie Moore, all do their best in this exciting and thoroughly entertaining picture, and with the final curtain, one is convinced that this talkie is about as well done and enjoyable to see as any picture that has been shown on the Kingston Theatre screen in some time. The story concerns a policeman, who starts out on his job to be honest. As time goes along, he discovers that honesty is almost an impossibility. What happens to him, and how he solves his own problem, is the basis of the story. Spencer Tracy is fine in the role of the handsome cop, and Sally Eilers gives her usual winning performance as the girl in the story. Good entertainment.

Orpheum: "Friends and Lovers" and "East of Borneo." Another double feature, the first being a sophisticated tale of a woman and her lover. Lily Damita, Adolphe Menjou, Eric Von Stroheim, and Laurence Olivier are in the cast. "East of Borneo" is melodramatic entertainment, with a cast that includes Charles Rickford and Rose Hobart. Broadway: "Charlie Chan's Chance" and "Seven Acts of Paramount Vaudeville" on the stage.

The latest mystery confronting the famous oriental detective, Charlie Chan, is solved in the usual brilliant manner by that popular screen detective, played so well by Warner Oland. It's the story of a desperate criminal, at large in society, with the police helpless to get him. How Charlie Chan, oriental sleuth, manages to bring the killer to justice is thrilling entertainment. A fine cast includes H. B. Warner, Linda Watkins, Alexander Kirkland, and Marion Nixon.
Ritz: "Arsene Lupin."

Tomorrow:
Kingston: Same.
Orpheum: "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and "Montana Kid." Robert Lewis Stevenson's famous thriller proves to be fine screen fare, with Frederic March in the double role of the romantic doctor who turns into a fiend after drinking a solution he has concocted. Miriam Hopkins is also in the cast. "Montana Kid" is a bit of western entertainment.
Broadway: Same.
Ritz: "Tarzan, the Ape Man," with John Weissmuller.

Snakes in Hibernation
Snakes seek places among the rocks in which to hibernate during the winter months. Although during this period of inactivity they can stand considerable cold, temperatures at or below the freezing point are quite likely to kill them. They seem to have an uncanny instinct of selecting their winter shelters at points that will not fall below the danger line in temperature.

The Saugerties Glee Club will join seven other clubs in a massed concert of 225 voices of the Hudson river division at the Middletown armory on May 19. The clubs will be divided into three groups.

The annual drive for Catholic Charities of the New York diocese, held in Saugerties the past few days was successful and amounted to $1,000 which exceeds last year's amount by $100.

Miss Bernice Lasher of Elm street, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is improving nicely under the care of Dr. Gifford.

Roger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant D. Morse, of Ulster avenue has recovered from his recent illness.

Louis Yannoni of Catskill has taken over the lower barber shop on Partition street and will be glad to serve the public.

On and after June 1, the John A. Snyder Insurance Agency and the Saugerties Cooperative Savings and Loan Association will be located in the Keenan building on Partition street, where John F. Hogan conducted a millinery store. This affords more room for these concerns.

American Architecture
Philip Newell Youtz says America has a distinctive architecture of its own. Even in its Colonial phase Old world designs were subtly changed to suit the new country. Today American architecture is an epitome of American life. The skyscraper, the modern factory, power house, grain elevator, railway terminal, school building, hospital and theater are all examples of original American thought and design.—Washington Star.

SHANDAKEN LODGE CONFERS

KNIGHTHOOD ON TWO

Monday evening, May 2, was an especially enjoyable occasion at Shandaken Lodge when the rank of knight was conferred on Adrian Loomis of Phoenixia and Shandaken Eignor of Pine Hill.

More than 40 members of the lodge were present, also a large delegation from Soutera Lodge in Tannersville.
The visitors assisted in conferring the rank work, a feature of which was a beautiful drill executed by a team recently organized through the efforts of Charles G. Stiles and E. G. West.

Many brothers in both lodges expressed their admiration for the effective manner in which the degree work was performed, and expressed the opinion that if Shandaken Lodge continued to progress along that line, it would soon become outstanding in ritualistic work among the lodges in this section.
After the meeting, the Pythians enjoyed a tasty lunch served by the Central Hotel. The lodge is expected to attend a Washington Bicentennial celebration to be held at North American Lodge, in Saugerties on Tuesday May 10.

ZENA.

Zena, May 3.—The Ladies League regrets that it must announce the postponement of its entertainment scheduled to be presented on May 12, on account of the illness of several of the cast taking part. On account of the epidemic of the mumps it was considered advisable to leave the date open until further notice.

The annual school meeting was held at the school on Tuesday evening. John Campbell as trustee, Fred Truitt as clerk and William Klumpp as collector were all requested to serve another year. Walter France was chairman for the evening.

Next Sunday at the regular afternoon services at the Reformed church there will be installation of two new elders Ernest Baldinger and William Wilson.

DIG WATER TUNNEL FAR UNDER GOTHAM

Job Costing $43,000,000 Is Nearly Finished.

New York.—Some 500 feet beneath the point where Kieftway avenue in Queens runs into the East river, at the foot of what is known as shaft 2A, drillers are now putting the finishing touches to their three years' task of excavating the 19 shafts and 20 miles of city tunnel No. 2, the $43,000,000 water conduit being built by the board of water supply. The last section of rock in the tunnel itself, between shafts 2A and 3A under the Bronx river, was "holed through" recently. All that remains of the excavating phase of the work is to round out the system of access tunnels and pumping chambers designed to permit drainage of the entire aqueduct from shaft 2A.

Since March, 1929, gangs of men have been working 24 hours a day, six days a week, slowly linking up from Hill View reservoir in Yonkers to Red Hook in Brooklyn this rock tunnel, longer than any yet constructed by man. More than 1,500,000 drill holes have been "shot" with approximately 7,000,000 pounds of dynamite to dislodge the 1,500,000 cubic yards of rock that have been removed.

Large enough to hold a subway car with a man standing on top of it, and as long as the run from Van Courtlandt park to Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn—in some places as far beneath the sidewalk as the Metropolitan tower is above it, and in no place less than 520 feet under ground—this mammoth pressure tunnel is destined to supply Brooklyn, Queens and a part of the Bronx with 700,000,000 gallons of water a day. With this flow and that from existing aqueducts, it is estimated the city will be able to meet its requirements as to delivery of water until 1950.

Engineers of the board of water supply report that the tunnel is 90 per cent completed, with the contractor, Patrick McGovern, Inc., working about one year in advance of his schedule. They plan to open the gates to the downtown shift at the southern end of Hill View reservoir and fill the tunnel with water early in 1933.

Communique of Premier
Has Country Guessing
Bucharest.—Rumanians, who are not a stupid people by any means, are trying to figure this one out. It is an official communique which was published in Prime Minister Jorga's own newspaper. The communique reads:

"The prime minister received no letter of protest from Minister C. Argetoianu.

"The prime minister was not phoned up by Mr. Argetoianu.

"No ministers in the present cabinet are engaged to be married.

"Subsecretary of State John Budugan is nobody's fiancee.

"The prime minister has no marriageable relatives.

"Lies and slanders like those being in Rumania don't exist even in the lowest of the low tribes of African savages."

Stanford Coeds Pick
He-Man Student Ideal
Palo Alto, Calif.—The answer to a Stanford university coed's prayer is a tall, unshaved youth, who wears dirty "cords," uses a sweater for underwear, and who might very likely knock down his female companion if she displeased him.

That, at least, is what the coeds indicated in a recent survey. Of the 500 girls in school, 825 said they liked the rough, he-man type; 150 said they preferred the sleek, fashion-plate type, and 25 said they weren't particular so long as they had a man.

Man Hangs Self After
Ten Minutes in Jail
Herkimer, N. Y.—Joseph Vincent, thirty-five years old, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct on complaint of his wife, told police he would hang himself if put behind the bars. The police laughed. Ten minutes later Chief Keller found him suspended by his neck from the top of his cell block by his necktie.

Idle Forfeit Labor
Fees Through Trick
London.—"Will six unemployed men go at once to the entrance hall, where they will be given particulars of a job."

This announcement flashed on the screen at a Kensington cinema was immediately followed by a rush of unemployed men.

In the entrance hall they found a man who stated that he needed six men for special work. He said he would take a number of names and addresses and let them know later who had been selected.

But the men heard nothing further until they visited the labor exchange to draw their weekly benefit.

Then, according to labor circles, those whose names had been taken were informed that their unemployment pay would be stopped for six weeks, as they had been found to be frequenters of cinema instead of using their benefit money for desirable purposes.

Scarfs Sketched on the Riviera

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild)

Scarves have gained new style significance this season. Various ways in which they adorn costumes are illustrated here, as worn on the Riviera.

A red wool material is worn like a pleated end provides a gay contrast to the front, twisted close around the throat and tied in short ends at back. The buttons are interesting.

A polka-dotted cotton scarf fills in right.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The three-quarter-length coat is gaining favor; also wide-shoulder silhouettes.

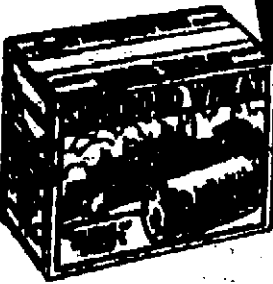

White coats in diagonal, spongy, and basket weave constructions are smart.

Lightweight fleecy woollens in polo-coat types are good.

Levy woollens in eggshell or pastel are used over contrasting linings.

Catish woollens in pastels and vivid shades continue in favor.

The Contrasting Jacket—Costume Possibilities

New York—The sketch herewith is just another version of the contrast light-above and dark-below costume, this time in jacket form. The practicality of such an arrangement is too obvious to mention. Given one skirt and several jackets, or one jacket and several skirts, or better still, two or three of each in assorted colors, and think of all the changes one may contrive by juggling the combinations a bit. It's a good trick if you can do it, and you should be able to, for this model might be copied in various fabrics, ranging from satin, as shown, to linen.

Linen is in readiness to be sprung any day, weather permitting. That it is not confined to sports clothes, you will quickly find out. It also runs the gamut of color, not excepting the extremes of black and white. Linens will be featured this year by the smartest shops. We seem to be in the mood for washable clothes in general, for not only are there those glorious but also cottons of all descriptions, especially ginghams and seersuckers, both of which are in high favor for blouses, gilets and dresses.

Both linen and cotton are used by milliners, and pique is being glorified to the extent of serving for parts of frocks. One of the tricky new ways of using pique is to band a hat with it, and then match it in collar-and-cuff sets. There are also pique handbags. Naturally, we will be carrying cotton handbags with our cotton frocks. What else would be in keeping?

One must not overlook belts, some of them also being pique. Among the many new belts are those fashioned of cord or rope. Belts are growing more popular, but this does not mean that a narrow one may not be worn. They are made of ordinary upholstery cord, leather strips, coarse twine-colored twine, cellophane straw, and even rope-like agors. Widths run from rope widths to 3-inch sewn-together flat braid cords and round corded ones.

There are also all-silk cord linked belts, some multi-strand versions and some more tailored braid or rope cords, with adjustable sliding ornaments and ball ends.

Bright Colors for Paris

Paris—Colors, in general, continue to give first place to blues of many shades, from navy to light blue, with emphasis on the medium bright tones. There is, in fact, a decided favor shown bright tones this spring; the vivid greens of last spring are still worn, and a number of bright reds, both orange and more crimson, are used for entire costumes. It is not unusual to see a trio of young girls, one in royal blue, one in lip-stick red, and the third in bright emerald, so that the general aspect of any meeting place is colorful. However, the more conservative women, among whom are some of the smartest in Paris, continue to prefer black and white to these bright colors, but on the whole, black and white is less strong than last year. Browns continue to be seen, and a little gray is worn by the ultra-elegant type of woman.

WHITE SATIN WITH BLACK

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild)

This dress combines black and white satin and has a youthful appeal that is not always found in a satin dress. The double-breasted treatment, the wide revers, the flaring collar, and the pleats, are all important features of this two-piece dress.

COWL NECKLINE

By CHERRIE NICHOLAS

The craze for the hand crocheted blouse has spread to include street, sports and informal afternoon costumes. As it is getting a bit late for wool, a number of the Paris houses are making these blouses in marcelled crochets for wear under the newer suits. Schiaparelli and other Paris designers are sponsoring them in sleeveless and cape versions, some little more than a gilet, perfectly plain except, perhaps, a tiny bow at the neckline, or with the round neckline built somewhat high and unornamented, or with a cowl neckline, as illustrated. This cowl neckline appears to be the latest, and a very soft, charming effect it gives when worn under the open jacket. These hand-crocheted sweaters or blouses are so easy to do, women everywhere are making them. They are lovely in pastel tones or in white.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Simple Frock for the Growing Girl
7484. Revers outlines the V opening of the neck and clusters of tucks trim the front at the shoulders. The skirt has plait fulness below the waist. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length as in the large view or short as in the small view. This is a style good for the new rough silks, or for sheer woollens or linen in monochrome. The revers and belt may be of contrasting material.

Designed in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. Size 10 will require 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch material if made with long sleeves. With short sleeves 1 1/2 yard will be required.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Printed Food Pick

The pampango belongs to the Jack family and is one of the most prized of the world's food fishes. The name is taken from the Spanish pampango, meaning grape leaf, which the outline of the fish resembles, when viewed from the side. It attains a length of one foot and a half, a weight of two to three pounds, and has white flesh. It is a favorite in Creole cooking.

Services will be held in the Reformed Church, Sunday, May 8: Sunday school at 9:30; preaching service at 10:30, Standard Time; the whole community is most cordially invited. Clarence Howard of New Brunswick Seminary will be the student pastor for the summer.

At the school meeting held at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening, May 3, Roy Ransome was re-elected trustee for three years; LeRoy Krom, treasurer, and Hubert Smith, clerk. The district voted to raise by tax on this district $5,292. Of this amount $1,522.12 is planned to pay transportation of high school children and $760 for their tuition.

450 WEED SEEDS FOUND COMMON IN POUND OF OATS

Ames, Iowa (AP)—It is not uncommon, says an Iowa State College pathologist, to find 450 weed seeds in each pound of seed oats.

This means 43,200 weeds an acre, if conditions are favorable, or one noxious plant to nearly one square foot.

Five live weed seeds per gram of alfalfa seed, or 2,250 per pound, may result in 33,750 weeds to an acre.

So R. H. Porter, the pathologist, concludes that farmers should test seed for purity and viability and that, since it costs no more to plant good seed than poor, farmers should avoid this possibility of low production.

History of Coffee

Coffee has an ancient and honorable history. The word itself has come down through many forms of spelling, but authorities say that "coffee" was derived from the original Arabic "kahwah" through its Turkish form, "kahveh."

Flashes of Life Sketched In Brief

Portland, Ore.—Two youths went into a jewelry store on a shoe string, so to speak, and the results were dire. Charles Sutton and Stanley B. Bobber got 56 days for the theft of 115 pairs of those shoes.

Kansas City—Here's the answer to the schoolboy's lament: "What good is soap?" Dr. Paul A. O'Leary, who is head of the skin department of the Mayo clinic and therefore ought to know, says there are 640 kinds of skin disease and soap is the best treatment for 500 of them.

Chicago—Oh, well, a fellow can't be lucky always. Charlie Patank made a hole in one. He stepped forward to receive his friends' congratulations, and tripped. A broken wrist resulted.

Chicago—They've even invented a gadget now so you don't have to count sheep when you're trying to sleep. Prof. John B. Morgan of Northwestern demonstrated a machine which emits a low, humming sound and quiets the nerves.

New York—A sparrow can't go about her business without a lot of attention from New Yorkers. Because a bird picked Broadway near Times Square as a likely place for a rest, police reserves were called to disperse raving throngs.

New Haven, Conn.—Mayor John W. Murphy, fire fan, buys his own gold badges, thank you. The fire commissioners offered to get him one so he could be in the front row at every blaze, but he said there was no need for the city to spend the cash, he'd get it himself. Anyway, he said, he wanted something to take away with him as reminder.

A ONE-ARMED PAPERHANGER FOUND IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Sioux Falls, S. D.—There really is a one-armed paperhanger—but, unlike the hero of the time-worn simile that starts "as busy as—" he has never had the hives! Charles Wenham of Sioux Falls has been hanging paper for 30 of his 67 years. Originally a farmer he lost an arm in a corn-shredder and, defying fate and the jokesmith, set out to become a paperhanger.

He learned the trade in Pennsylvania and moved here five years ago.

Hamlet's Scent

Whether or not Hamlet was insane is a question which has disturbed critics for 300 years. It is interesting to know that most of the profound thinkers who have given the question deep consideration regard Hamlet as sane.

It would seem that if Hamlet was insane there is no point to the drama.—Washington Star.

No Jobs—Engineers Will Farm Thousand Cleveland White Collar Men Given Chance To Make Living Through Collectivized Garden Project

Cleveland (AP)—Two thousand idle acres in Chagrin Valley, right in the midst of numerous country estates, will be given the expert attention of a thousand or more unemployed Cleveland engineers and technicians this summer.

A joint committee representing 14 local chapters of national engineering societies has taken over these acres and will operate them as a collectivized farm for their jobless brethren.

Engineering and technical men have been hardest hit by the slump here, and the profession has taken this means of caring for its own.

Each jobless member of a society will be allotted an acre for garden stuff. He will take it to a central market, there to be exchanged for food staples, clothing and other necessities. Any surplus will be sold to the public and the proceeds divided among the workers. Scrip will aid the bartering.

Free transportation will be arranged for workers living in the cities, and camping accommodations will be arranged for those who prefer to take their families to the farm.

The Cleveland Engineering Society started the plan after George T. Trundle, president of the Trundle Engineering Company, proposed it.

Jobless engineers and technicians of Cleveland are going to roll up their sleeves and go in for collectivized farming this summer. George T. Trundle (above) proposed the idea.

The employed engineers are financing the farm and expect to be repaid in produce.

FARM WAGES STAY HIGHER THAN PRICES OF PRODUCE

Urbana, Ill. (AP)—Although farm wages are the lowest they have been in Illinois since 1911, hired labor costs are still relatively higher than prices of most farm products, says R. C. Ross, University of Illinois agricultural economics specialist.

As a consequence, he says, farmers are hiring as little labor as possible and adjusting the cash expenses through this means.

The demand for farm labor in Illinois on April 1 was only two-thirds normal, Ross says.

INDIANS' SACRED QUARRIES TO BE PRESERVED AS PARK

Pipestone, Minn. (AP)—Quarries, long sacred to Indians, who obtained from them stone for peace pipes long before the coming of white men, are to be preserved as a state park under a movement begun here.

Each summer many members of tribes on reservations in South Dakota, Nebraska and Minnesota come here to get stone for their sacred ceremonies.

Quantities also are shipped to other tribes by several Indians who live here and make their livelihood entirely from the quarries.

News of Today In Kingston

The annual battle for the class banner between the Juniors and Seniors of Kingston High School took place yesterday afternoon on the school's front lawn.

The Senior Class was having its picture taken and it is the custom for the Juniors to attack the Seniors for the class banner after the picture had been snapped. This is exactly what happened.

Junior forces launched their drive on the Seniors and the brawl was on. The boys of both classes were on one another with head locks, toe holds, half Nelsons and what have you. Occasionally a fist would fly and perhaps even the size elevens were put into use.

This battle was marked by the unusual. The police interfered and they had their hands full. Two of the boys were taken into custody. Another was taken to the hospital with a cut eye.

They never went as far as this in past years. The combats were bitterly fought but no severe injury ever resulted.

The actions of J. C. Fraser were unusual. He got the banner by some means, when the boys were struggling in the road on Broadway, and ran up to the front steps of the school. The crowd followed and then J. C. tossed the banner again in the group, so the fight started anew.

Let's drink a toast to the good old fighting spirit of J. C.

It is said the Junior picture is being taken this afternoon. Another battle will be in the air.

The Seniors will have a big surprise in store for them if they do get the banner.

Eskimo Charlie will lecture to the Boy Scouts and their parents tonight.

Mr. Planinshek is a personal friend of Commander Byrd. When he was at Washington, D. C., he talked with Byrd and President Hoover for two hours. Byrd first met Eskimo Charlie when he made an expedition to the North Pole. Then the explorer was guided by the Eskimo chief. Charlie gave to Byrd all the knowledge he needed about the ice and atmospheric conditions.

Mr. Planinshek expects to pull out Friday. He is now on his way back north with his two children and a boy, of 17 years, who joined the party in Virginia.

Today is the birthday anniversary of Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole. He was born in 1856.

This is National Child Health Week. Music week and Boys week. What we really need is a National Beer Week. Then the depression could be over.

It seems the deflation of the stock market has affected the hobos too. There has been no report as to raids on the travelers camps by the police, so far this spring.

No doubt the promoters of "Sleepy Valley" have had to cut down the traveling budget. Either that, or the railroads aren't running enough freights.

Although Kingston High School has booked tennis matches with other schools to be played on Furayth Park, no attempt has been made by the keepers of the park to condition the courts for the matches.

A match was postponed yesterday with St. Stephen's College because of the condition of the local courts. There is another match scheduled to be played here Saturday with Ellenville. It's a DUSO League tilt.

Music Week Plans For Sunday Concert

Arrangement of the program for the big concert to be given at the high school auditorium Sunday afternoon at 2:30, in observance of National Music Week is nearly completed.

Among the numbers announced are two solos by Robert Hawksley, "Where'er You Walk," by Handel, and "Trees," by Rasbach. There will also be a number by the Schubert Choral Society, with a solo by Virginia Los Kamp, director of the society.

Leonard Stine, director of music at the Kingston High School, will present a string sextet, made up of members of the high school orchestra.

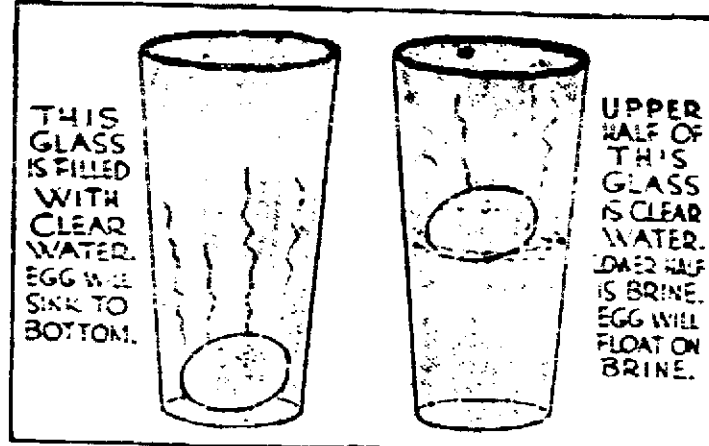

It is announced that the concert will start promptly at 2:30.

JUNIOR LEAGUE PLAY AT Poughkeepsie Friday

"The Steadfast Tin Soldier," which was recently presented in a very delightful manner by the Kingston Junior League, will be given in the Community Theatre, Poughkeepsie, sponsored by the Junior League of that city on Friday at 4:15 p. m. Miss Beulah Phelps will take the part played in Kingston by Mrs. J. H. Tremper, Jr.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will Lindhorst

THE MAGIC EGG, A CLEVER TRICK

Take two tall glasses or mason jars, fill one and half fill the other with water. In the half-filled glass pour a few tablespoonsful of salt. When the salt is dissolved and has turned the water into brine fill the remainder of the glass with clear water, pouring it in slowly down the side of the glass so as not to disturb the brine. Then take the two glasses and an egg before your audience. Drop the egg in the glass of clear water and it will sink to the bottom. Drop it in the glass containing the brine and it will float midway in the glass, supported by the brine. Both glass appear to hold clear water and it is mystifying to onlookers as to why the egg should stop midway in one glass.

How One Woman Lost 47 Lbs. of Fat

In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have maintained taking one 'teaspoonful' in warm water every morning. I then weighed 215 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides."

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say."

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my dose, and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that it is."

Mrs. W. A. Suleman, New York, N. Y.

"P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that cost 10 cents will last a few weeks.

When ordering attention to the fact that the Kruschen Salts are made from light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. The Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat.

To take off fat harmlessly and safely, take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning, after meals, as the safe way to reduce.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Medicine Drug Stores or any drug store in the world and of the genuine Kruschen Salts do not defect can do not profitably satisfy your way money back.

Clyde-Mallory Line May Operate Boat On the Hudson River

New York, May 3 (AP).—A. G. Bates, vice president of the Clyde-Mallory Line, said today that the line is considering establishing a daily passenger service on the Hudson river between New York and Albany. The 10-000-ton Clyde-Mallory liner "Iroquois" returned this morning from a round trip to the Port of Albany. Bates said the purpose of the voyage, which was made only by the crew and a few of the line's officials, was to inspect the facilities of the port.

Running at a leisurely pace, the Iroquois reached Albany yesterday in about 16 hours. At full speed and with a clear course the liner is capable of making the run in little more than seven hours, Bates said. The line expects to decide next week if it will start night and day passenger trips to the state capital.

Attempt To Extort Lands Four Persons In Jail Wednesday

An attempt to extort $150 from Thomas Sexton, 14 years old, of High Woods, resulted in four persons being landed in the county jail Wednesday night. The quartet was rounded up after a merry chase by Sergeant James Cunningham and Trooper Knapp, of the State Troop, aided by the Saugerties police.

Ella Warren, 19 years old, who says her home is in Marbletown, ran away from the Hudson State School last year and was employed by Sexton as housekeeper. Last Sunday Byron Purdy, 35, his wife, Jennie Purdy, 37, of 25 North Bridge street, Poughkeepsie, and Orville Purdy, 24, of Zena appeared at the Sexton house in a Whippet car and represented themselves as officers. They told Sexton the girl was wanted for violation of parole and that they had come to get her. At that time Orville Purdy represented himself as Officer Stevens, and Jennie Purdy said she was a probation officer. They took the girl away with them on their representation that they were officers.

Monday they returned and charged the aged man with an assault upon the Warren girl. They told him he was under arrest on that charge and demanded that he accompany them unless he paid $150. He informed them that he had no such sum of money and that he could not get it. He however gave them $5 which he had, and then they demanded "court fees."

The quartet then informed Sexton that if he could not pay the money demanded they would have to place him under arrest. He was taken from his home and placed in the car and believing he was under arrest he began to search his memory for some place to secure the demanded $10 court fees. Sexton thought of a neighbor, Mrs. Pritchard, who resided on the Fish Creek road and to her house they went and she gave Sexton the $10.

Tuesday Sexton came to the conclusion that he had been swindled out of his money and went to the home of Sergeant James Cunningham and reported the matter to Mrs. Cunningham in the absence of the sergeant, who was engaged in another investigation. Wednesday Sergeant Cunningham, acting on that information, took up the investigation of Sexton's case. He knew of the Purdy home at Zena having previously been called upon to deal with members of the family. At Zena he hoped to locate some member of the family whom he might question. As he approached the house he saw Orville Purdy leave the house hastily and take to the woods. On the premises he located the car with one license plate missing and a paper plate substituted. There he also found Ray Purdy, who is on parole from prison. Questioning Purdy Sergeant Cunningham finally secured the desired information and he and Trooper Knapp started out to round up the quartet. Leaving Trooper Knapp to guard the cross roads at the Purdy place Cunningham returned to Saugerties and asked the Catskill police to locate the Warren girl at an address which Ray Purdy had supplied. He also requested Capt. Richter of the Saugerties police to have the Poughkeepsie police pick up Bryon and Jennie Purdy at the Poughkeepsie address. Sergeant Cunningham returned to the search for getting in the woods where he had last been seen but the search failed to locate the missing man.

The Warren girl was picked up by the Catskill police and the other two by the Poughkeepsie police and Orville Purdy was placed up about 5:30 o'clock on the High Woods road. The four were then arraigned before Justice of the Peace Abel at Saugerties.

When Purdy was given three months in the county jail on a charge of petit larceny in securing the money from Sexton. Ella Warren also received a three month sentence on a petit larceny charge. Orville Purdy, who appeared as Officer Stevens in the matter, was sentenced to three months in the county jail on a charge of impersonating an officer and also three months on the petit larceny charge. Jennie Purdy, who had represented herself as a probation officer, was sentenced to three months on a charge of impersonating an officer and also three months on the petit larceny charge.

After a hearing in police court before Judge Collier today Rosario Naccarato of 148 North street, was held to await the action of the grand jury on two charges, one of assault in the second degree and the other for having a revolver without a permit for it.

Pedro Serrano, a boarder at the Naccarato home, who was arrested with Naccarato, was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of rape in the second degree.

It is alleged that Naccarato threatened Serrano for paying attention to Naccarato's daughter, and that the threat was enforced with the display of a revolver.

Attorney Francis T. Murray appeared for Naccarato and Attorney Lloyd LeFevre for The People. Serrano was not represented by an attorney.

When supreme court convened this morning there were no cases ready for trial and an adjournment was taken until Monday. The day calendar includes Nos. 445 and 11, 370, 450, 6 1/2, 16, 14, 21, 26, 32, 33, 34 and 40. On Monday afternoon the strike off order is returnable. At that time all cases which have been at issue for two years will be stricken from the calendar if not tried at this term unless reason is shown for their continuance.

Court Of Appeals Decision Sustains County Judge Traver

Judge Traver's Action in Striking Several Names From The Register of Electors of The Town of Kingston Is Approved.

The Court of Appeals has sustained a decision of County Judge Frederick G. Traver by which several names were stricken from the register of electors of the town of Kingston last fall. Motion of appeal for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals which was argued on April 25, has been denied by the Court of Appeals with $10 costs and printing disbursements. During the early procedure the late John W. Eckert appeared and on his death County Attorney Robert G. Groves appeared for William Cohen, deputy sheriff of the county, who made the application for the striking from the registers the names of several persons. Francis T. Murray and Arthur B. Ewig of counsel appeared in opposition.

William Cohen, a deputy sheriff of the county of Ulster, last fall made application to the county court to have the names of twelve persons stricken from the register of the town of Kingston. That motion was heard before County Judge Frederick G. Traver who directed that twelve names be stricken from the register.

An appeal was taken to the appellate division which was not then in session and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt called an extraordinary session of the court to hear the matter. The decision of Judge Traver was affirmed by the appellate division.

Attorney Ewig then made a motion before the appellate division for a re-hearing or for leave to go to the Court of Appeals. This motion was denied. Up until that time the late John W. Eckert appeared in the matter.

At a later date a motion was made before the Court of Appeals for leave to go to that court. Briefs were submitted by appellants and Robert G. Groves who appeared for Cohen at that time in opposition also filed briefs. The matter was argued on April 25 of this year and Tuesday the Court of Appeals handed down its decision denying the appellants the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals and sustaining Judge Traver.

This final affirmation of Judge Traver evidently ends the proceeding. The names which were stricken from the register by Judge Traver on application of William Cohen were:

Hazel Burton, John Haggarty, Eddy Haggerty, William McGucken, Catherine McGucken, Florence McGucken, William Pfeiffer, Matilda Pfeiffer, May Reeve, Julia Reeve, Carl Stauble and Elizabeth Stauble. Those who appealed from the decision of Judge Traver were: Hazel Burton, William, Catherine and Florence McGucken, May Reeve, Julia Reeve.

The action to strike from the register was brought under Section 331 of the Election Law.

Screen Stars Will Appear at Broadway

Theatregoers who took delight in "Our Gang Comedies" will have the opportunity of seeing little Mary Ann Jackson, a star of the well known cinema attraction, at the Broadway Theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday. The little screen actress, coming direct from Hollywood, has been booked to appear in person. She will do a variety act which promises to please all the little folks and adults as well.

Heading the vaudeville bill for the first half of next week is Colonel Fred Lindsay, popular screen actor, who played the part of Colonel Leonard in "Rough Riders". He is an Australian and is famous not alone as an actor but as a soldier, having served with the English cavalry during the World War. Colonel Lindsay is very much interested in Boy Scout work and will give some interesting talks on the subject. He was a personal friend of the late Theodore Roosevelt.

Reports Big Egg.
News that lay big eggs do not exist in California alone. Having read in The Freeman that a hen in that state laid an egg 6 1/2 inches in circumference, a resident of Cornwall has reported that a Rhode Island Red owned by George Van Wagoner, 2 neighbor, laid an egg 6 1/2 inches in circumference during the month of March.

Court Holds Two For Grand Jury
After a hearing in police court before Judge Collier today Rosario Naccarato of 148 North street, was held to await the action of the grand jury on two charges, one of assault in the second degree and the other for having a revolver without a permit for it.

Pedro Serrano, a boarder at the Naccarato home, who was arrested with Naccarato, was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of rape in the second degree.

It is alleged that Naccarato threatened Serrano for paying attention to Naccarato's daughter, and that the threat was enforced with the display of a revolver.

Attorney Francis T. Murray appeared for Naccarato and Attorney Lloyd LeFevre for The People. Serrano was not represented by an attorney.

When supreme court convened this morning there were no cases ready for trial and an adjournment was taken until Monday. The day calendar includes Nos. 445 and 11, 370, 450, 6 1/2, 16, 14, 21, 26, 32, 33, 34 and 40. On Monday afternoon the strike off order is returnable. At that time all cases which have been at issue for two years will be stricken from the calendar if not tried at this term unless reason is shown for their continuance.

Court Of Appeals Decision Sustains County Judge Traver

Judge Traver's Action in Striking Several Names From The Register of Electors of The Town of Kingston Is Approved.

The Court of Appeals has sustained a decision of County Judge Frederick G. Traver by which several names were stricken from the register of electors of the town of Kingston last fall. Motion of appeal for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals which was argued on April 25, has been denied by the Court of Appeals with $10 costs and printing disbursements. During the early procedure the late John W. Eckert appeared and on his death County Attorney Robert G. Groves appeared for William Cohen, deputy sheriff of the county, who made the application for the striking from the registers the names of several persons. Francis T. Murray and Arthur B. Ewig of counsel appeared in opposition.

William Cohen, a deputy sheriff of the county of Ulster, last fall made application to the county court to have the names of twelve persons stricken from the register of the town of Kingston. That motion was heard before County Judge Frederick G. Traver who directed that twelve names be stricken from the register.

An appeal was taken to the appellate division which was not then in session and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt called an extraordinary session of the court to hear the matter. The decision of Judge Traver was affirmed by the appellate division.

Attorney Ewig then made a motion before the appellate division for a re-hearing or for leave to go to the Court of Appeals. This motion was denied. Up until that time the late John W. Eckert appeared in the matter.

At a later date a motion was made before the Court of Appeals for leave to go to that court. Briefs were submitted by appellants and Robert G. Groves who appeared for Cohen at that time in opposition also filed briefs. The matter was argued on April 25 of this year and Tuesday the Court of Appeals handed down its decision denying the appellants the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals and sustaining Judge Traver.

This final affirmation of Judge Traver evidently ends the proceeding. The names which were stricken from the register by Judge Traver on application of William Cohen were:

Hazel Burton, John Haggarty, Eddy Haggerty, William McGucken, Catherine McGucken, Florence McGucken, William Pfeiffer, Matilda Pfeiffer, May Reeve, Julia Reeve, Carl Stauble and Elizabeth Stauble. Those who appealed from the decision of Judge Traver were: Hazel Burton, William, Catherine and Florence McGucken, May Reeve, Julia Reeve.

The action to strike from the register was brought under Section 331 of the Election Law.

The Biggest Buyer Writes Us 40,000,000 Times a Year

Just about every woman who reads at all reads a newspaper every day.

The reason is apparent. Every happening of interest to her appears first in her daily newspaper. She relies upon the newspaper for her knowledge of community affairs, social and personal news, fashions and amusements. She consults it in a wide variety of her daily problems—from the managing of her home and the education of her children to questions of health, etiquette and cooking.

In addition to unnumbered personal and telephone calls, the women of North America voluntarily write their daily newspapers over forty million letters a year asking advice on problems such as these. The newspaper is their established friend and guide—their daily indispensable contact with the world.

Not only do women spend over five billion dollars a year on clothes, cosmetics and other articles for themselves alone, but they make 85%, if not more, of the combined purchases for North America's 33,000,000 families. Informed through newspaper advertising of what products are best and cheapest, women no longer can be sold by off-hand arguments. They are in a position to choose and reject according to pre-established convictions.

Any manufacturer, any wholesaler, any retail merchant, who wants his share of this inviting market, will find a super-salesman in newspaper advertising.

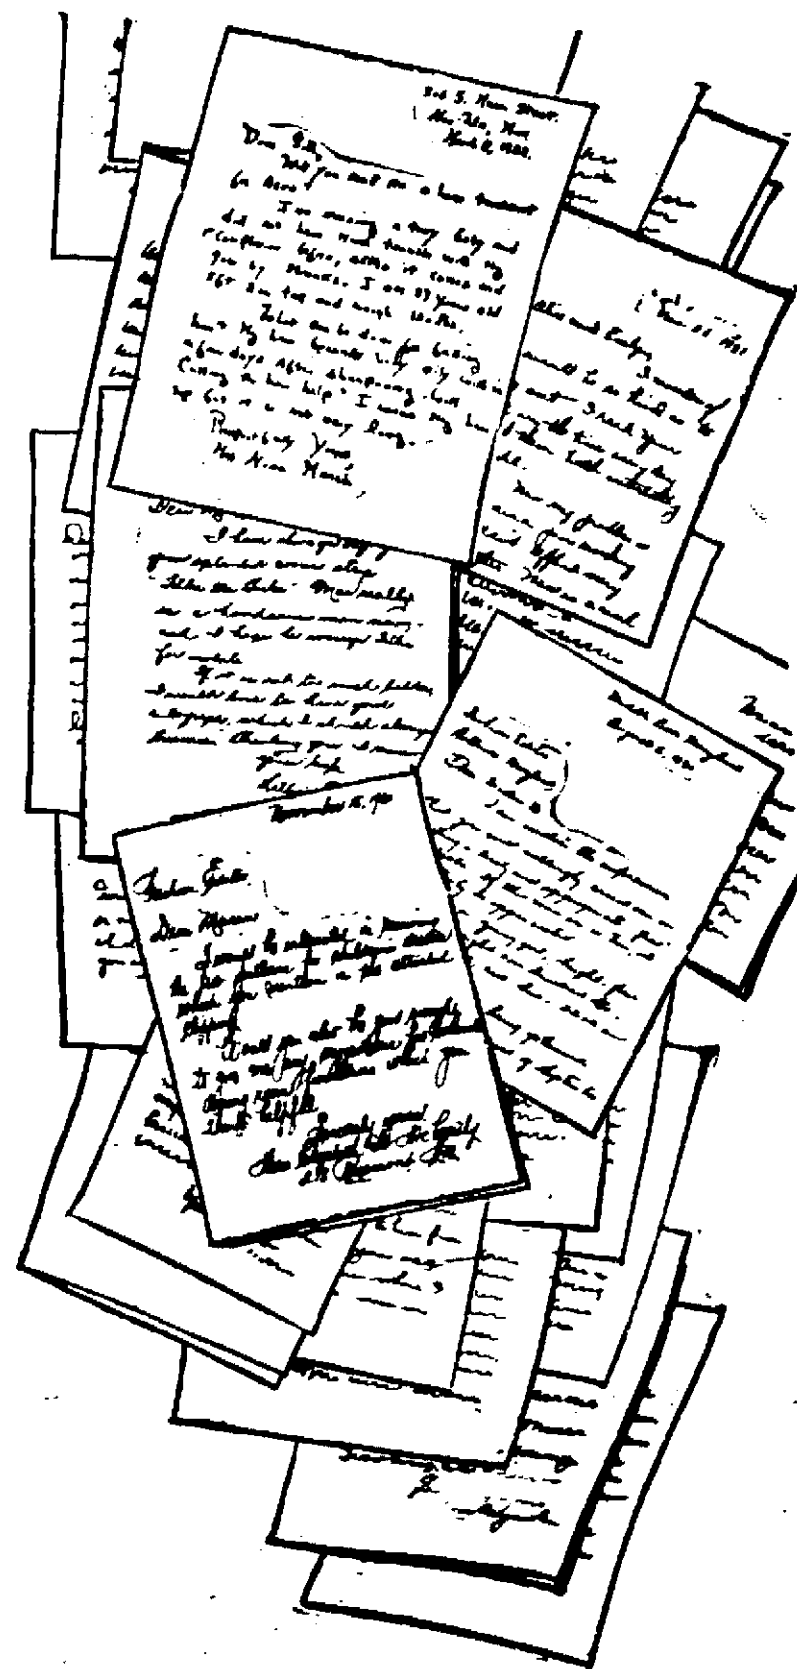

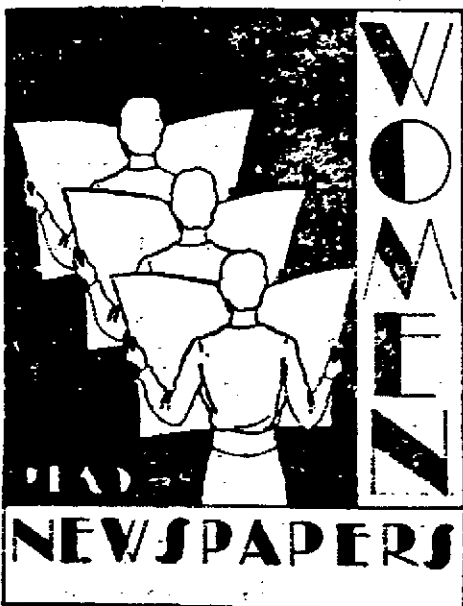

When he advertises in the newspapers, his business becomes associated with all the local daily activities and close-to-home interests of women.

Thousands of advertisers know there is no substitute for newspaper advertising, because it reaches all the women that are reached by all other methods of advertising and many that are reached only through newspapers.

Wherever else you may advertise—on the radio, in magazines, through circulars, posters or signs—your advertisement goes to women who have read their newspapers today and will read them again tomorrow.

SEND FOR THIS BOOKLET

Some startling facts are disclosed in a new 16-page booklet, "Women Read Newspapers," obtainable on request from the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, 370 Lexington Avenue, New York City. Relative costs and coverages of newspapers and women's magazines are shown; surveys of the reading and buying habits of women are summarized. The booklet throws new light on national and local advertising problems that will be of vital interest to manufacturers and retailers.

THE DAILY NEWSPAPERS OF NORTH AMERICA

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

If you wish to take the condition of Jack Sharkey's nervous system as a barometer of forthcoming events (and there is no extra charge for so doing), the indications are the tempestuous tar will nudge Max Schmeling right out of the heavy weight championship on June 14 or thereabouts.

When the big jackpot from Boston is seen and irritable, snarling at his surroundings and everyone within reach, that's the big sign that he's ready to fight. When he lackadaisically sits around and takes it for granted he's going to win, without caring much either way, then the signs are up for another clean miss. Sharkey was as full of growls as a playful bull terrier on his first visit to the excavation on Long Island the Garden insists will be a stadium seating 20,000 by the time the Gob and the German face off for their second heavyweight title match. He almost bit Jimmy Johnston, master of all the Garden surveys, because Bill had failed to give him all the choice seats he wanted. With the typical Sharkey snarl running all over his features, the fighter announced publicly:

1. That the match would be a financial flop.
2. That the stadium would not be ready.
3. That he didn't give a hoot if he fought Schmeling some dark night in a field somewhere.
4. That he'd smack Schmeling so hard and so quickly above the tonsils this time that there'd be no question of the winner.

A Battler When Mean.

Sharkey was in the same mood when he ripped into Harry Willis, weeping in his rage, one night long ago at Ebbets Field, to wipe out the Black Menace and establish himself as the best of the young American heavyweights.

He talked himself into a nervous uproar before his great chance against Jack Dempsey five years ago, when he fought the greatest fight of his career, although Dempsey finally nailed him in the seventh. But the bambosky went out of him shortly thereafter when poor management dictated that he should cease his orations and become a more staid citizen. Clamping Sharkey's jaws clamped his fists as well. He was a dispirited, futile wanderer in the eliminations that developed Tom Heaney as Gene Tunney's final foe in 1928.

Walker Fight Tip-Off.

No clearer insight could be offered into the Sharkey temperament than his attitude after his wearisome tussle with Mickey Walker had been called a draw.

"Aw," he said in the dressing room afterward, his manner that of a plumber just home from work, "who wants to hit a little guy, anyway?"

But the gag is out again and Sharkey once more is old man bellicose himself. With the German enveloped finally into a thoroughly punched, smart, courageous, and equipped for defense for the first time, the Sharkey attitude points toward some much-needed warfare.

Universe, Derby Favorite, Injured

Louisville, Ky., May 5 (AP)—Disastrous pre-derby training campaigns of three leading eligibles have resulted in Mrs. L. G. Kaufman's Tick On becoming almost a stand-out favorite to win the fifty-eighth Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The latest derby nominee overtaken by misfortune is Universe, which was slightly lame today after wrenching a joint in his left foreleg in a workout yesterday. Universe, winner of the Wood memorial at Jamaica, is secondary favorite to Tick On in the future book odds.

Tennis Match Cancelled.

Helen Wills Moody Favors U. S. to Win

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, landing at Cherbourg, France, on the Ile de France, yesterday, predicted that the United States would win the Davis Cup this year unless Rene Lacoste returned to the French team with much of his oldtime wizardry. Mrs. Moody will play in the French hard-court championships at Cherbourg before proceeding to Wimbledon for the Wightman Cup matches and the Wimbledon tournament.

Slumber Mere Reversion to Embryonic Status?

Sleep, Dr. Emil Guthrie, noted Austrian psychiatrist, told the Washington Psychological society, represented a return to the condition of the organism at various stages before birth when there is perfect warmth, darkness and absence of disturbing stimuli. But, he pointed out, this embryonic state itself is very close to the dividing line between death and life.

"It is a curious paradox," he said, "that we spend one-third of our existence yet unborn. Every hour of sleep is just so much added to the state of life before it emerges into conscious individuality."

The language of dreams, Doctor Guthrie said, is the language of primordial men. It is a very similar sort of symbol language, he pointed out, as that which emerged from the long past of the race in the earliest writing and was preserved in alphabets, such as the Chinese, the Egyptian and the picture writing of some of the American Indian tribes.

The extreme fear sometimes experienced in dreams, he declared, is nothing more than fear of ourselves. The inability to escape from the thing feared, the seeming magic power that binds the victim of the nightmare, is natural since it is impossible to escape from the self.

Doctor Guthrie warned against persons discussing their dreams too freely. The knowledge of dream interpretation now is widespread, he said, and persons are likely to give an unfair picture of themselves.

Unofficial Bird Census Leaves Doubt in Mind

An unofficial census taker has been on duty at the cathedral at Rouen, France. He reports that it has a bird population of 1,200 permanent residents. There are 900 pigeons, 250 bats, 60 hawks, 40 owls and 35 ravens.

On the whole, it is a peaceful congregation, but occasionally the ancient enmity between hawks and pigeons breaks out and a dead pigeon bearing the marks of battle is sometimes found in the cathedral.

It would be interesting to know how the statistician was able to make an even approximately accurate count. Field glasses, and perhaps a mechanical counting device, may have helped, and a particularly lavish offering of food may have brought down all the inhabitants from the topmost rafters. Even so, it would seem to require an almost self-registering eye to count a flying population.—New York Times.

Obedience

The following is an incident that happened some years ago in India: A bachelor friend was giving a dinner party to some of his pals and their wives, and thought that wild duck would be a nice change. Instructions were duly given to the cook, and late that afternoon, when the host returned from his office, he found the cook busily chasing the wretched duck round and round the compound. Upon being asked why the cook replied (after having safely caught the duck) that as he was unable to get a wild duck in the market, he had bought a tame one and was trying to make it wild by chasing it round the compound.—Exchange.

Dog's Status Unjust

The fact that in ancient Assyrian days, numbers of mongrel wolf-like dogs were allowed to haunt the streets of hot eastern cities to act the part of scavengers and disposers of garbage of all sorts, thieves, snarling creatures kicked about by everyone, put them into the lowest class of the brutes. To cast anything to the dogs was to consign it to infamy as deep as could be imagined. We have a relic of that feeling in the expression "gone to the dogs," applied to one who has lost all or become out-cast.

Iceberg

By JAMES PARKER

LOU and Harrison were engaged, and Lou's heart was heavy for Conchita, the dancer, was doing what Lou himself had longed to do: break up the ice flow in Harrison.

Even before Conchita had undulated into the picture Lou had been anxious. For instance, at seven on Valentine's evening Harrison, tall, lean, and with a frigid demeanor, had arrived to escort her to a friend's party. He had scooped, his kin the quick, detached sort of career that filled her with anxiety.

"You look wee-be-gone. Have I overlooked something fearfully important, little sentimentalist?" he had asked.

On the correct finger of Lou's left hand a gorgeous emerald twinkled. Harrison had asked her to marry him. "I'm just being silly," Lou had smiled wanly.

He had plucked her cheek. This was not the attitude Lou wanted. She didn't want him to chuckle. She wanted him to feel stirred, intent. She wanted his clear eyes to glow. But they were two frozen pools.

"Harrison, why can't you be a little more... oh, I don't know." Her hands had fallen limply to her sides. He had sought to seal her lips with another calm, undemonstrative kiss. "I'm not a movie actor, you know, Lou."

"Who asked you to act?" Lou had demanded. "I want you to mean it." The color had come tingling into her cheeks.

"I'm a frigid cuss, I know. Yet you and my law practice are my world."

Adoring every fair crispy curling hair in his head, she rebuked herself. He was marvelous and she loved him. She mustn't expect a typically legal mind to express poignant romance.

Midge, whose party they attended, wanted to charter a cab and see how the rest of the world lived.

Never will Lou forget that night. At first she was an inwardly seething torrent of excitement. Then her heart was being eaten out for she had seen Conchita's burning Latin eyes were bringing out fascinated lights from impenetrable Harrison's.

The cafe was dingy. There had been a raucous clamor, but apparently the regular patrons felt chagrined for they surveyed the beautifully attired visitors, snorted, and lapsed into a sullen silence. The proprietor, however, rubbed his pudgy hands delightedly and whispered excitedly to his star performer.

"Conchita, we have ver' swell customers tonight. You will dance your best."

"Conchita always dances superbly, peep!" That lady snapped her lacquered fingers. "Are not our regular customers more than these pork who come only to leer?"

The Mexican orchestra throbbed in a low, pulsing rhythm. With a clack of her castanets Conchita, a living flame, stood poised in the middle of the floor. Professional that she was, her long blue eyes wandered heavily-lidded over her audience, picking a worthy one to whom to dedicate her dance. The drowsiness of her eyes vanished as they lighted on the cool, flawless features of Harrison.

Lou's devoted little heart sank. The rumba rhythms beat inflictingly on her conservative ears. With a catch in her throat she had to admit she had never seen Harrison so stimulated.

The whirling, insinuating dance halted abruptly. The dancer pressed a long sweet kiss on her vivid fingertips, blew it straight to Harrison, and tossed to him the rose which had nestled in her lanky hair.

"Harrison feels shaken," observed Midge. "He's trembling like a leaf."

Lou was trembling, too. She dared not lift her hurt, bewildered eyes. Nightly Harrison frequented the cafe. Lou, shaken almost beyond endurance, lay between cool sheets and prayed, not for her own forlorn heart, but that splendid man and brilliant attorney that he was, he might not be horribly uprooted.

Then she summoned her frail courage and went to the place herself. She left, pale, trembling, but contentedly wiping her red-rimmed eyes while Conchita's gay laugh bounded after her.

That night, steadfast love seeping from his eyes, Harrison took Lou gently in his arms, then kissed her quivering mouth almost roughly in his fervency.

"Lou darling, let's get married right away!"

In his sturdy embrace Lou felt exalted. Her happiness welled over. Why should she tell him Conchita had admitted she was only playing with him? It would make him feel tainted, cheapened.

"He one big ice-berg," Conchita had teased. "Conchita have no place for ice-bergs."

"But you've melted him!" Lou had insisted.

Conchita had stood, her fists dug into her shapely hips. "When ice-berg is melted, what is it? Big puddle. Conchita have no use for puddles either."

So Lou thanked her; for she assigned to Conchita what she felt she had not been able to do for herself, since ice cannot melt ice.

As the sweetness of her clinging to him, and the clean scent of her hair filled him, Harrison decided not to tell her of Conchita. How he had recognized the woman as a missing witness in one of his cases. This lovely, dainty Lou he adored. Why all her innocent mind with a sordid case of a cabaret dancer?

WHY Becomes a Famous Belongs to Americans

Failure to apply for a patent on process which revolutionized the history of the world cost the inventor the fame, if not the financial return to which his invention entitled him. William Kelly, an iron manufacturer of Pittsburgh, discovered worked out the process of most important known as the Bessemer process, but because he was slow in his claim for a patent, Bessemer, English manufacturer, acquired the patent for the process. Kelly was able to obtain the patent by proving that he was first, but nevertheless the name Bessemer has since been used for the process which worked out.

Much has been said and written how inventors reaped small reward from their ideas and comparative speaking, this held true with Kelly. He did receive royalties of $450,000 in his steel-making process, but this is only a drop in the bucket of the revenues.

Kelly's discovery came by chance. He noticed in a pot of molten iron one spot which glowed with incandescence, although no heat was being applied at the point. Investigation disclosed that a draft of air was being forced through at that particular point and he was quick to deduce that the oxygen of the air was burning the carbon in the iron ore, producing the intense heat and the resultant product which came to be known as Bessemer steel.

The first converter involving the process of blowing air through molten iron was constructed in 1856 and the modern steel-making was launched.—Washington Star.

Why Term "High Seas" Is Applied to Waterway

"Why are the oceans called the seas?" Where did we get that term as applied to the ocean?

One of the definitions of the word "high" is this: "Of relatively great importance; chief; main; principal." The high seas are the main sea, just as a high road is a main thoroughfare. The term is applied to waters which do not lie within the borders of a country, and are beyond the territorial jurisdiction of any government.

The United States Supreme court, though with a division of opinion, held that the uninclosed part of the Great Lakes is included in the term "high seas," as having the general characteristics of seas and being open to the largest vessels and international trade.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Why Nicknamed "Bluenose"

Nova Scotians got their nickname from a variety of potato, known as the bluenose potato, which at one time was exported in great quantities from Nova Scotia to New England. The potato was so called from the fact that one end was usually bluish in color and the Yankees gave the name of the potato to the people who raised them. It is sometimes said humorously that Nova Scotians are called Bluenoses because Jack Frost bestows blue noses upon most of them.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why "Clocks" on Stockings

The narrow strips of openwork pattern which run up the sides of old stockings are a reminder of the time—as late as Queen Elizabeth's reign—when stockings were made of cloth. To make cloth stockings fit at the ankle, seam had to be made running a little way up the side of the leg. This seam was hidden by embroidery, and now long after the seam is no longer necessary, the embroidery remains.

Why Corn Pops

Corn pops because of the expansion of steam within the kernel produced by heat, and a certain amount of moisture is, therefore, lost from the popper. A reliable oil is also given off as indicated by the characteristic odor of popping corn. A pound of pop corn will, therefore, weigh slightly less after it is popped, although this may not be enough to detect on an ordinary pound scale.

Why Name Was Changed

In 1964 Helena, Mont., was founded by a band of prospectors headed by John Cowan. At first it was called Last Chance Gulch, as they had been looking for gold all through the spring without success and considered this their last chance for that season. On June 15, 1864, an abundance of gold was located.

How Icebergs Are Formed

Glaciers move slowly to the shore. The ends of them are forced into the ocean. From time to time pieces break off and float away. These pieces are called icebergs.

Why Black Affects Glass

Glass covered with black paint cracks when exposed to the direct rays of the sun more readily than plain glass because black absorbs more heat rays than plain or other colored glass.

Why New York Is "Gotham"

Washington Irving, in "Satanstoe," published in 1807, gave New York the nickname "Gotham" on account of the "folly of its inhabitants."

Why Ships Are White

White has been the favored color for ships for the reason that white surfaces absorb little of the sun's heat.

Fall to Be Released
From Prison Sunday

Washington, May 5 (AP)—Department of Justice authorities will announce today that Albert B. Fall goes free last Sunday.

If Warden E. B. Swope of the New Mexico penitentiary sticks to his announced plan of not releasing the prisoner when his terms end
unless instructed from Washington, the order will be sent.

The question hinges on Fall's $100,000 fine, added to the year and a day sentence imposed on his conviction in a Federal court for accepting a bribe while secretary of the interior in the Harding administration. Normally fines must be paid before release, or a paper's bath must be taken, followed by brief confinement to work out the fine.

But, the justice officials explained,
Fall's sentence was worded differ-ently, and does not exact payment of the fine as price of freedom. If the fine remains unpaid they can obtain a judgment against him, although they did not say this would be done.

W. C. T. U. COMMUNITY
NIGHT AT PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, May 5.—The Plattekill Grange hall was taxed to the limit of its seating capacity on Saturday evening when the annual Community Night of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union was observed.
Standing room only was available.
Many people from surrounding communities were numbered among the audience.

The first part of the program was rendered by pupils from Sylvia, Prospect Hill, Plattekill, Leptondale and Geow District Schools.

A series of recitations, songs and a play in four scenes, entitled "The Making of the Flag" by seven pupils of Sylvia school were enjoyed. Mrs.
Alex Thorne and Joseph Bussell accompanied by Mrs. Aaron Baxter rendered vocal solos during the program.

Mrs. Norman Tremper and Mrs.
William Harris entertained with an amusing dialogue, "A Cheerful Caller". A four-act play entitled "Lost and Found", given by a cast of characters, aimed to bring the message of the evening, in portraying the advantages gained by a youth in choosing the right road in life.

The newly installed pastor of the local M. E. Church, the Rev. Herbert Hahn, was introduced and brought fitting words of greeting. Mrs. Frank Carpenter, president of the local organization, spoke on the duty of a citizen and the purpose of the W. C.
T. U. Following the awarding of prizes in the Scientific Temperance Instruction Contest by the director, Mrs. Charles Everett, the program was closed with the flag salute, and The Star Spangled Banner, with the music by Mrs. Arthur Diener.

The work submitted in the S. T. I.
Contest was on display, and represented the largest number of entries yet to be received in the contest work. The following awards were made in cash prizes:

Education a Mistake

"Don't talk to me about free education!" said a burly farmer of the old school. "What good has it done anyone, anyway? Makes young fellows too proud to do work for a living but sit at a desk and wear cuffs round their necks. And the girls! Why, my missus can't get a servant; they all want to be actresses or teachers or lady clerks! And, best of it is, after all the learnin', some of 'em can't even spell. There's young Johnson at the Green Swan just put a sign over his coach house, and this is how he spells 'carriage'—g-a-r-a-g-e." Don't talk to me about free education!"

New Type of Trench Mortar Gets Test

TRENCH mortar of the newest design being tested at Fort Hager. The gun is fired by dropping the shell through the mouth of the mortar, thus making a contact with the pin at the base of the barrel and setting off the charge. The new 81 mm. mortar is the latest development in this type of weapon. It is characterized by its light weight and great destructive powers, being easily transported by three men and being capable of a maximum range of two miles.

Sentence Of Mary
Nolan Is Upheld

Los Angeles, May 5 (AP)—Having lost their first move to evade serving a 30-day jail sentence, Mary Nolan, actress, and her husband, Wallace T.
Macrery, today indicated, through their attorney, they would apply for probation, or appeal to the state Supreme Court.

The pair was convicted of violating the state labor laws on March 11.
The Appellate Department of the Superior Court yesterday upheld the conviction and sentence.

Miss Nolan, formerly known on the ing to pay employees of a gown shop they operated in Hollywood.

tour. She has 48 hours within which to surrender, and five days within which to file an appeal. Her husband is said to be accompanying her on the tour. Both are at liberty on $200 bonds each.

not to show the dirt! Today's happier, cleaner style says
"color in the home—gay, sunshiny color!"

So easy! So inexpensive!
Once you discover HOW easy,
HOW inexpensive, you'll make home smile with cheery color in every room.
Such colors to choose from in WATERSPAR Varnish and Enamels! Soft pastel shades, delicate hues! Rich, entrancing tones! Gorgeous, brilliant, stunning colors! Never before did women have such a palette of ready-to-use beauty, and best of all, the fuss and muss of refinishing is gone because of the fast-drying of WaterSpar Varnish and Enamels.

Forget Price-Per-Gallon When You Buy Paint!

Forget it because cheap-price-per-gallon paint is expensive paint! You can pay over a dollar less per gallon for it, but because of its short covering capacity it saves only $4 total on the initial cost of painting the average house. And in five years it costs $283 more than as if you had used quality paint
such as PATTON'S SUN-PROOF PAINT in the first place.

This Store is Headquarters for paints, varnish, enamels and brushes and features the Pittsburgh Proof Products line—famous for 75 years as products of the finest quality at reasonable prices.

Remember This About the Master Painter

The Master Painter isn't just a handy man. He is a highly skilled, responsible craftsman with the knowledge and experience to solve special problems in painting and decorating.
Your investment in a good painter will be profitable.

Better Work With a Horseshoe
Brush

Don't try to do a good paint or varnish job with a poor brush. It can't be done. If it is a HORSESHOE Brand brush, it will help you do the best possible job.
